Contact Information: Workers' Compensation Case Managers

GroupHealth®

Keeping an employer informed is a vital component of Group Health's Occupational Health Services program, each of the medical centers is staffed with a Workers' Compensation Case Manager (WCCM). These master's level professionals are experienced certified vocational counselors, and their job is to coordinate care and communication between the employer, claims manager, employee and physician. In addition, each medical center is staffed with business office support, Patient Account Representatives (PAR), who are knowledgeable regarding the workers' compensation paperwork.
